

Health
e-Research Centre

DATA SAVES LIVES: older people's views on health data

Theme for Community Reporter training (Oct-Nov 2016)

For more info, see www.herc.ac.uk/research\_project/community-reporters

ASKING PERMISSION FROM PEOPLE FEATURING IN YOUR REPORTS

The Data Saves Lives theme is a collaboration between the Institute of Community Reporters and the Health e-Research Centre (HeRC, University of Manchester).

HeRC would like to show a selection of Data Saves Lives community reports on their website. For this, they need permission from people featuring in your reports. For example, because you interview them, or because they otherwise play an important role.

In order to get people's permission, please start your community report with reading aloud the following script:

[Reporter]

This report is part of the Community Reporter initiative. It will be uploaded onto the Community Reporter website, and may also appear on the website of the University of Manchester. These websites can be seen throughout the world, and not just in the United Kingdom, where UK laws apply. Can you confirm that you have understood this, and that we have your permission to upload the report as I have just described?

[Other person]

Yes